DESCRIBE THE PRESENT AND ORIGINAL (if known) PHYSICAL APPEARANCE

This three and one half story, three bay wide rowhouse is located in the middle of the block. The foundation wall is stone. The first story facade has been partially altered to include a recessed doorway to the left with two large plate glass store windows in the center of the first story facade. Another single door entrance on the extreme right is surmounted by an arched transom.

The second and third story building walls are brick and feature an oriel to the left that houses three flat double hung windows of one over one lights on either story. The right side of both story facades is punctuated by two double hung flat windows with one over one lights. The stone lintels of the second story facade windows as well as the stone sills of the third story facade windows are incorporated into a belt course spanning the width of the facade. The half story accomodates two dormers of two flat double hung windows with one over one lights each. Three pilasters seperate and frame each of these windows which are surmounted by pediments. The dormers protrude from a high pitched gabled roof. This property also contains an old carriage house that is presently used for storage.
